Diogenes

A beautiful summer's day. On an idyllic lakeside preparations are in full swing. Tonight is carnival night. The impresario and his pretty assistant greet the illustrious guests pouring in: Adam and his wife Eve. Goethe, accompanied by Gretchen. A bishop and Satan himself. An everyman named Joe. And a secretive, stunning woman who claims to have been Adam's first wife.

That evening, the party begins. The guests exchange witty remarks, identities and kisses from beneath their masks. For what is carnival about if not the secret of love?

An erotic dance through different times and planes of reality, both philosophical and as light as a feather.

Praise

Slawomir Mrozek

»Mrozek's literature is addictive.« – El País, Barcelona

Praise (cont'd)

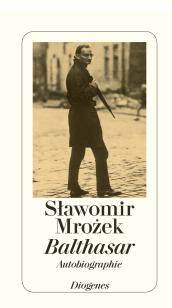

»The author, known primarily as a playwright, reveals himself as a writer of incisive prose who captures the absurdity of reality and its interaction with unreality in polished, witty formulations.« – Neue Zürcher Zeitung

»Brilliant [...] the writer is an Aesop for our times.« – Publishers' Weekly, New York

Sławomir Mrożek was born in Borzecin, Poland, in 1930. He was first known as a caricaturist and author of satirical short stories. His plays (Tango, The Emigrants, Striptease, and many others) made him world famous. In 1968 he went into exile. After living many years in Paris and later in Mexico, he returned to Poland in 1996 and spent the final years of his life in southern France. He died on August 15, 2013 in Nice.
