Diogenes

Otto Jägersberg's new work of short prose is the ideal book with which to forget everything around you.

»Where am I? On the internet. Whatever I see, sees me too. Wherever I click, it looks back at me. In the car, too: when I don't know where I am, the satellite knows. Everything I click helps fill out the image the internet has of me. I don't yet know what I want, but the internet does. I guide my mouse according to my interests, I'm bringing myself ever closer to my interests, I'm so close now, I'm in pursuit.«

Praise

Love at First Sight

»Otto Jägersberg offers the reader his texts without commentary, and they are as surprising as they are readable.« – Matthias Kussmann / Deutschlandfunk, Berlin

»Four- or five-hundred-page epics: yet so swiftly devoured! Jägersberg's prose in Love at First Sight, by contrast, is short, shorter, the shortest. And it stays with you for a very long time.« – Zeit Online, Hamburg

Otto Jägersberg

»It is a pleasure to follow this wandering rascal.« – Nils Jensen / Buchkultur, Vienna

»How does Otto Jägersberg write? Well, you can enjoy his lines of poetry and prose in sips, but you may become tipsy quite fast in the process.« – Frank Lorentz / Welt am Sonntag

»[Jägersberg's] punchlines have something so sublimely casual to them, as though the comedy were springing forth organically from the depicted events, or rather, more frequently, from the language.« – Frank Schäfer / taz, Berlin
