Praise

Julia Engelmann

»Engelmann strikes a nerve, right at its core.« – 3Sat, Mainz

»The voice of an entire generation.« – Radio
Bremen

»Magnificent! There is no other word for it.«
– Der Stern, Hamburg

To chase her dream of becoming an actress, Franka gives up her A-levels, parts with the love of her life, and spends ten years fighting her way from Munich to Los Angeles, via Kiel, Salzburg, Berlin and New York. When she wins an Emmy for her first film role, she has finally made it. But what remains of her dream? A flawless body that no longer belongs to her, a fame that rules out any real relationship, and a longing simply to be seen. Franka gathers her strength and dares to break free.
