

Solomonica de Winter
Natural Law

Published by Diogenes as Das Gesetz der Natur
Original title: Natural Law

General Fiction
608 pages
11.6 x 18.4 x 3.4 cm
October 2022

Contact:
Susanne Bauknecht, Rights Director, susanne.bauknecht@diogenes.ch and Suzanne Hégelé, Film Rights Manager, suzanne.hegele@diogenes.ch

Translation rights currently sold:
English/NL (Prometheus/Bert Bakker)

In the New World, people live according to the Natural Law. The world as we know it, does no longer exist and the remaining population is now divided into four tribes. Gaia Marinos is an outcast living in the woods. When she gets captured by one of the tribes, she is saved only by her ability to read. Yet the tribe members have a plan for her. Gaia's mission to track down the last remaining books on Earth is jeopardised, and she has to decide: how far is she willing to go?

»And all that began, began in the wild, lest you wish to never know.«
Solomonica de Winter

Photo: © Linelle Deunk / Dogmes Verlag

Solomonica de Winter was born in 1997 in Bloemendaal, the Netherlands. Raised bilingually, she grew up both there and in Los Angeles, California. She has lived in Israel, Italy, and the USA and graduated with a Masters Degree of Fine Arts in Fiction Writing at the Vermont College of Fine Arts. She currently resides in the Netherlands. Solomonica de Winter writes in English.

Over the Rainbow
288 pages
2014

 Bestseller